

Walker Morris Online Presentation Tool

Please note these are wire frames, design elements at this stage are to emphasise functionality only

The Dashboard

Project outline

To design, build and deliver an online tool that allows Walker Morris to present a series of slides in a non-linear fashion through a web browser, and after for their client to be able to view it as a "leave-behind" using an access key.

The application should use only open source software and not require the audience to install any plug-ins or software, other than the use of a modern browser.

The application will be built in such a way that content, functionality and appearance are separated, allowing the way it looks to be updated without re-coding the "engine" or affecting the content.

The application consists of three modules:

- The Dashboard
- The Presentation
- The Client leave-behind

We suggest three sub-domains are created to house each module:

- dashboard.walkermorris.co.uk
- presenting.walkermorris.co.uk
- clients.walkermorris.co.uk

The Dashboard

Where new presentations are created and edited.

Staff access is managed.

Client keys are created.

Presentations are attached to staff members.

A presentation should be able to be saved as a PDF suitable for printing.

The Presentation

Before a presentation can be viewed, the presenter must log-in, which automatically selects which presentation will be shown.

The presenter remains logged in until either the browser cookie is removed or they manually log out.

This stops any risk of the dashboard along with lists of clients being exposed during a presentation.

A new or different presentation can be selected in the dashboard.

A presentation consists of a menu screen, selecting an option then steps through a series of linear screens on that topic. At any point this series of screen can be exited back to the menu screen.

The Client leave-behind

Works in a similar fashion to The presentation. The principle difference being that instead of a user name and password screen, the home page has as part of the interface a "key" field.

The client enters a unique key (usually comprising a series of random characters and numbers) which automatically selects and loads their presentation.

The Dashboard

Menu options

- Select presentation
- Create presentation
- Current presentations
- Archived presentations
- Client keys
- Manage users
- Defaults

Select presentation

Allows any current presentation to be assign to any user.

Assigning a presentation to a user cause that presentation to automatically display whenever the user visits The presentation site, on any computer or browser.

Create presentation

Creates a new empty presentation based on the current set of defaults.

Current presentations

Displays a list of all current presentations, these can be

- edited
- previewed
- saved to PDF
- duplicated
- archived

Archived presentations

Displays a list of all current presentations, these can be

- viewed
- activated
- saved to PDF
- deleted

We suggested splitting the options to avoid accidental deletion. It may be deemed better to hide rather delete presentations for reasons of accountability. Presentations may want to be deleted or hidden because they refer to out-dated material, staff, laws, etc.

Manage users

A user consists of a

- user name
- password

These allow access to both the Dashboard and The Presentation (but not the leave behind).

The Manage user panel can

- create a new user
- edit their user name and/or password
- delete a user

Client keys

A client key consists of a

- firm name
- key

The key alone allows access to the Leave-behind. The firm name is display on the welcome screen.

The Client Keys panel can

- create a client key
- edit the firm name
- generate a new key
- delete a client key

Defaults

Edits the basic menu structure.

The Dashboard

Where new presentations are created and edited.

Staff access is managed.

Client keys are created.

Presentations are attached to staff members.

A presentation should be able to be saved as a PDF suitable for printing.

A Presentation

Presentation components

- Presentation ID
- Creation date
- Updated date
- Author
- Client Firm
- Title
- Status (active or hidden)

Dynamically generated components

- Presentation date
- Presenter

These are created on the fly when the presentation runs

Default menu screen

The initial set of menu options are

- The team / contacts
- Core values
- Awards / accreditations / quotes
- About client / Client requirements
- Experience / Credentials
- Logos
- Fees
- Summary
- Case studies
- Key issues / challenges
- Deliverables / How we can help
- USPs
- Technical process / timetable
- Word clouds

Slide types

There are five slide types

- Picture
- Logos
- Tombstone
- Text/bullets
- Video

Slide meta data

All slides regardless of type have the following elements

- Presentation ID
- Menu ID
- Slide ID
- Slide rank
- Creation date
- Updated date
- Author
- Title

Logos/pictures

Consist of a dynamic layout of images.
The maximum number of images to be determined.

Images are resized to the correct dimensions when uploaded.

Images should be tagged as either

- client logo
- image

This allows for the easy selection of client logos

Video

Consists of a poster image with a play button overlaid.

The video should be stored online, we recommend Vimeo.

Storing it on WM servers can be discussed.

Managing users

List all current WM staff accessing, editing, creating or presenting presentations using the WM-OPT.

New users can be added.

Users can be edited or deleted.

Once deleted access to the presentations and the dashboard is revoked.

The list can be sorted by name alphabetically, in ascending or descending order.

Pages will be paginated when the amount of users grows substantially.

Creating a new presentation

When a new presentation is created, it is initialised with the sections as they currently are in the Defaults.

A client name and a title must be filled in before the presentation can be saved.

Clicking cancel will not create a new entry in the database.

Section details can not be edited until the presentation is saved, although they are visible.

Sections in saved presentations can be re-ordered by dragging on the Move icon and dropping

The screenshot shows the 'Presentation dashboard' for Walker Morris. At the top left is the Walker Morris logo. At the top right, it says 'Welcome Julian Baker' with a 'Sign out' link. Below this is a navigation bar with links: 'Select presentation', 'Create presentation', 'Current presentations', 'Archived presentations', 'Client keys', 'Manage users', and 'Defaults'. The main heading is 'Editing presentation: Creative Wealth Management – Acquisition'. Below this is a form with a 'Slide name' input field, a 'Tombstone' dropdown menu, a 'Cancel' button, and a 'Create slide' button.

The tombstone slide.

A tombstone comprises of three elements:

Image - mandatory

Any sized image can be uploaded and will be scaled down. Note images wont be scaled up.

Label - optional

This appears on the slide when initially shown

Long description - optional.

This is displayed in a pop-over box covering the slide when the image is clicked.

When saving you can either return to the Presentation interface or add a new tombstone.

Creating a presentation

- 1 A default presentation is duplicated
- 2 The menu structure can be amended as desired

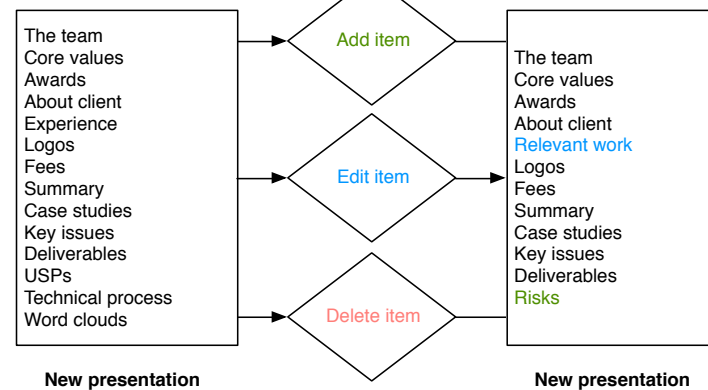

Duplicating a presentation

Duplicating an existing presentation also creates copies of every slide. Once created menu options and slides can be edited independently of the original.

Step 1

Step 2

Creating a presentation

- 1 A new slide is requested for a menu option
- 2 After adding an element (for example a tombstone) you can either finish the slide or add another element
- 3 This process is repeated until the slide is finished. You can then add another slide to the menu or finish adding slides.

Step 1

New presentation

Step 2

Step 3

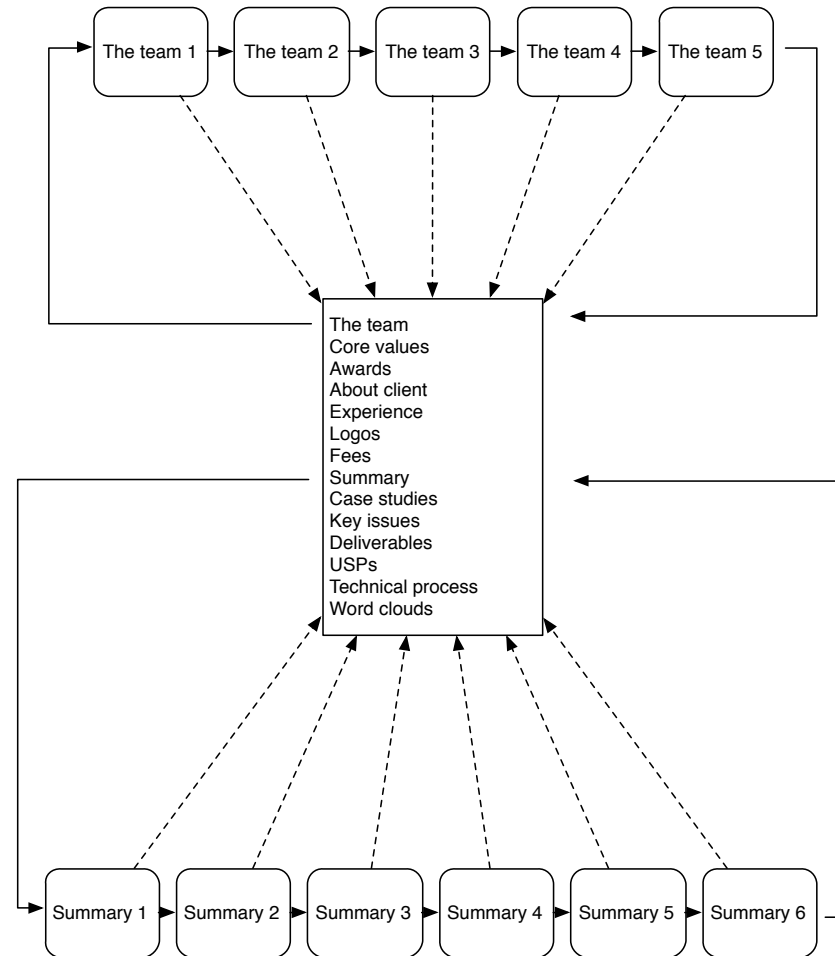

A presentation journey

Selecting any menu option begins a linear journey through the stack of slides that belong to that menu.

After the last slide has been displayed in that stack the presentation returns to the menu.

At any point the stack can be exited and the presentation immediately returned to the menu screen.

Budget

Final 25% upon sign-off

Build time

Three months starting mid June.

Time scales reflect the build time for Flat Earth and do not include any decision processes by Walker Morris.

Next steps

Development of scope

- sub-domain registration
- site wireframes
- template wireframes
- database design

Milestones

- sitemaps
- template design
- site design
- dashboard
- presentation site
- client site
- q.a. process

Platform and browsers

The sites as not mobile optimised and are meant to be viewed on a desktop computer or iPad.

Supported browsers

Browser	Version(s)	OS	Grade
Chrome	C, C - 1	Windows 7+	A
Safari	ANY	Windows 7+	U
Firefox	C, C - 1	Windows 7+	A
IE	10, 11	Windows 7+	A
IE	9	Windows 7+	B
IE	5, 6, 7, 8	Windows 7+	U
Chrome	C, C - 1	Mac OS 10.6+	A
Safari	C, C - 1	Mac OS 10.6+	A
Firefox	C, C - 1	Mac OS 10.6+	A
Opera	ANY	ANY	U
ANY		Linux	U

Support Levels

A grade

- All functionality works
- Minor visual variation between browsers and operating systems is acceptable
- Transparent progressive enhancement allowed (e.g. functionality can optionally use browser capabilities if they're available, but features still work without them)
- Performance variation between browsers is acceptable

B grade

- Functionality that requires new browser features may be disabled
- All other functionality present
- All content must be accessible
- Visual variations (e.g. rounded corners) are acceptable

Unsupported

- Not in scope for Flat Earth to support this browser, for this project

Responsibilities

Walker Morris to arrange hosting of the three sub-domains with the following software

- Apache/Unix server
- MySQL
- PHP

Flat Earth to be granted

- SSH access to the sub-domains
- FTP access

Lack of SSH access may lengthen the project slightly
